BRIDGE to BROADWAY - Ages 7-12

Students learn musical theater skills through rehearsing and performing a Junior Broadway musical! Classes consist of practicing songs, dances and scenes from the musical and participating in games and activities to learn about an actor's tools – voice, body and imagination. The session culminates in several January performances (dates TBD). Past musicals include Lion King Kids, Willy Wonka Kids, and Seussical Kids. This workshop is for students interested in theater, as everyone is expected to participate; please discuss this with your child prior to enrolling. Parents are required to contribute a minimum of three volunteer hours toward the final production. This workshop is offered in collaboration with Hi-Liners Musical Theatre for Children.

Instructors: Andrea Benson has directed Bridge to Broadway productions for the last three years, has co-directed and taught classes at Hi-Liners Musical Theatre for over a decade, and heads The Bridge School's overall theater program. Her enthusiastic and innovative style is always popular with students of all ages.

Allison Gobat is a positive, resourceful teacher who teaches theater, music and creative classes at The Bridge School and Hi-Liners Musical Theatre. She has been the musical director for the past three years of Bridge to Broadway productions.

YEARBOOK - Ages 9-12

Students explore the idea of commemoration and memorialization through questions like "How do we preserve collective memories and why?" and, "What about our school community and experience do we wish to set down in print and for whom?" Students look at examples of yearbooks and memory books, then collaboratively design a Bridge School spin on a traditional yearbook. We will explore a variety of writing genres and graphic design principles through a process of drafting, revising and editing. For ages 9 and older, or with instructor permission.

Instructor: Kat Stein-Ross' enthusiastic and engaging style works magic with young and older students alike. She has taught Language Arts, Humanities, Health and exploratory arts in the US and Venezuela and favorite pastimes include cooking, reading, watching cooking shows, traveling and making up goofy song parodies with her two young kids.
